The Royal Palm Hotel, Santa Cruz, Galapagos, Ecuador

The Royal Palm is a privately-owned boutique hotel and is one of Santa Cruz's most exclusive properties. Set in its own 190-hectare (482-acres) private estate, it is surrounded by the lush Miconia forests of the Santa Cruz Highlands adjacent to the Galapagos National Park. Combining elegant colonial style with traditional island design, this property complements the natural environment, creating privacy, space and quiet seclusion for its residents. The Royal Palm has a relaxed and informal charm about it, making this the perfect base for both land and sea adventures in the Enchanted Islands.

All flights to Baltra Airport, Santa Cruz depart from either Quito or Guayaquil and a small number from Cuenca on the Ecuadorean mainland.

The four carriers are: LAN, TAME, Aerogal and Avianca
